Thank you for choosing Revo, and congratulations on your purchase of the Revo SS-SR1000 Support Strap for the SR-1000 Shoulder Support Rig

The Revo SS-SR1000 is a unique accessory for use with the SR-1000 Shoulder Support Rig. It adds stability, comfort, and balance for easier maneuvering and handling of fully loaded front-heavy camera setups.

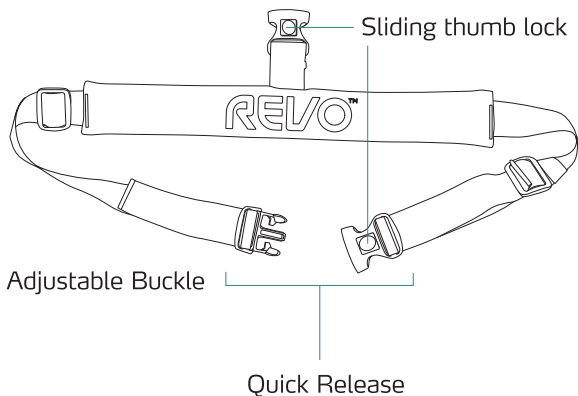

The SS-SR1000 is lightweight, fully adjustable, and easy to attach to the SR-1000.

Overview

Detachable Adjustable Back Strap

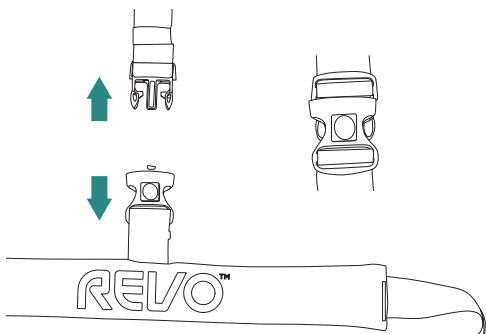

Adjustable Waist Strap

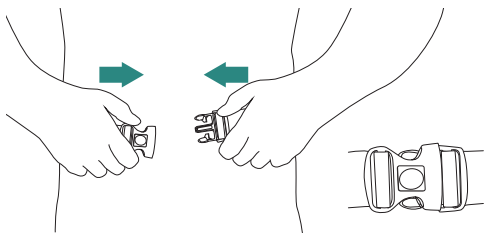

Important: For safety, whenever attaching, adjusting, or removing the support straps of the SS-SR1000, place the SR-1000 Shoulder Support Rig on a secure surface.

- 1 Detach the waist strap from the back strap.

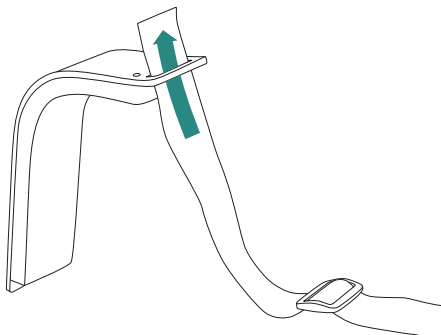

- 2 Adjust the waist strap so that it fits snugly. The logo on the waist strap should face out with the air mesh facing towards you. Attach the quick release and move the sliding lock to the locked position. Keep the strap attached around your waist while you complete the rest of the steps.

- 3 Attaching to the SR-1000 Support Rig

- Thread the end of the back strap without the quick release up through the slot at the end of the shoulder pad.

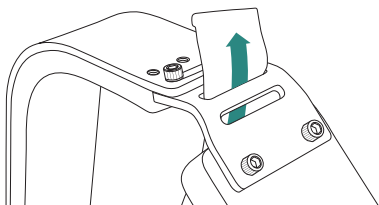

- Loop the end of the strap over the end of the shoulder pad, and thread it through the adjustable buckle. (Proceed to step #5)

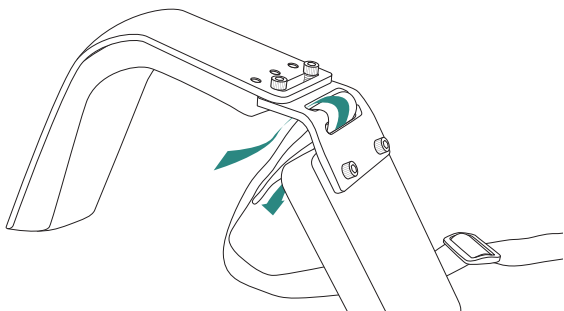

4 Attaching to the Support Rig with the CW-SR1000 Counterweight

For extra support and stability, the SS-SR1000 can be used with the CW-SR1000 Counterweight attached to the SR-1000 Support Rig. Consult the manual for the CW-SR1000 to attach the counterweight to the support rig.

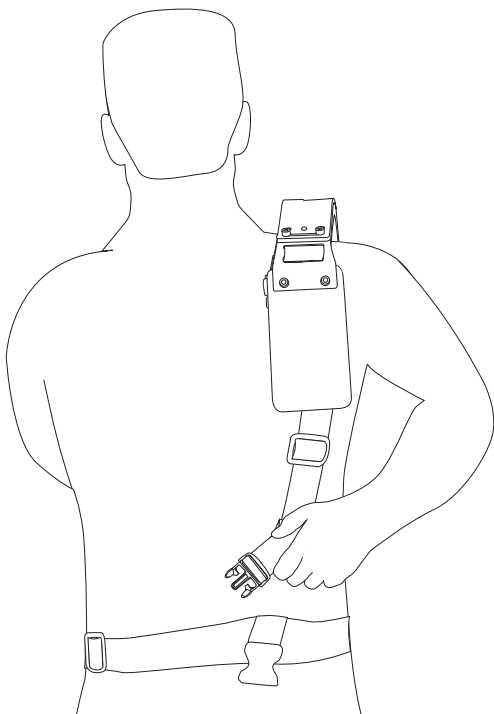

- Thread the end of the back strap without the quick release up through the forward slot of the mounting plate that connects the support rig and the shoulder pad.

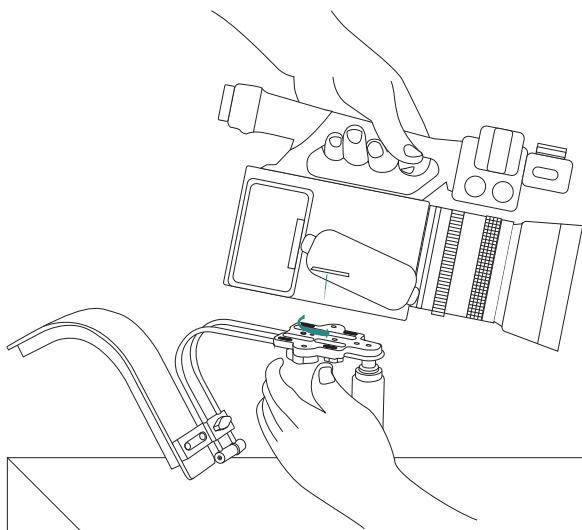

- Loop the end of the strap over and down into the rear slot of the mounting plate, and thread it through the adjustable buckle.

- 5 Adjust the length of the back strap by placing the SR-1000 rig on your shoulder. The strap should be a maximum of 6 inches above your waist.

- 6 Mount the camera onto the SR-1000 support rig and place on a secure surface.

- 7 With the SR-1000 support rig and camera on the secure surface, attach the back strap to the back of the waist strap with the quick release and move the sliding lock to the locked position.

- 8 Once the back strap is attached, place the SR-1000 and camera onto your shoulder to begin use.
