KEYBOARD STAND KS-18Z Owner's Manual

Functions

* Set up and use the stand with the stand height adjustment knob bolts facing towards the front.

Setup

1. Assemble the left and right side frames. Rotate the arms and legs of the side frames so they are in a level, horizontal position.

* Take care not to allow your fingers or hands to become pinched by the arms or legs when rotating them.

2. With the side frames in position, attach them to the center bar with the knob bolts.

* The left and right sides of the center bar differ in width. Attach the wider end of the center bar to the side frame with the larger attachment sleeve and the thinner part of the center bar to the side frame with the narrower attachment sleeve.

3. Adjust the frame width. Loosen the stand width adjustment knob bolt, then change the center bar length.

* Adjust the stand to suit the width of the keyboard you are using.

* After adjusting the stand's width, securely tighten the knob bolt.

4. Adjust the stand height.

* Be sure to align to the height markings accurately as shown in the figure, then secure the stand with the included knob bolts. When tightening, be sure to confirm that the knob bolt is properly engaged in the screw hole.

* To prevent the risk of injury, always make sure to have all bolts tightened properly. Otherwise, the stand could tip over and cause the keyboard supported by it to fall down.

5. Attach the cushions.

Remove the paper backing from the reverse sides of the included cushions, then attach the cushions where indicated in the figure.

6. Confirm that all knob bolts (in five places) are securely tightened.
