Thank you for choosing Impact.

The Impact SRP Wall Plates mount to any flat surface, including set walls and apple boxes. You can use a wall plate as a low stand by fixing it to the floor and mounting a fixture directly onto the 5/8" stud or receiver. Since wall plates take up less room than tripod legs, you can fit them into tighter spots where stands or clamps are inconvenient to use.

The Impact SRP-115, 116, and 117 Wall Plates feature welded steel baby pins 3", 6", and 9", respectively, and the Impact SRP-119 has a baby pin set at a right angle. The SRP-123 features a 5/8" baby receiver that allows the plate to be used as a small speaker or monitor platform, as well as a low stand. All wall plates have eight anchor points, and all baby pin wall plates feature a small hole for a safety cable (not included).
