

UNIVERSAL INFLATABLE SOFTBOX

FOR PORTABLE FLASHES

USER MANUAL

 VELLO™

INTRODUCTION

Thank you for choosing the Vello FD-900 Universal Inflatable Softbox. This light-modifying accessory is designed to diffuse the light fired from on-camera hot-shoe flashes, creating an enhanced and softened quality to the speedlight's output. The inflatable softbox is highly portable and able to fold and fit into a very small form. Additionally, the setup and breakdown takes less than a minute to complete, creating a reliable addition for on-the-go photographers.

FEATURES

- Softens and diffuses light

SETUP

1. Flatten the deflated softbox.
2. Lift the plug off the inflation valve and inflate the softbox by pinching the base of the valve and blowing into the opening.
3. Once the softbox can support itself securely, plug the inflation valve.

4. Loosen the draw string on the flash-head opening.
5. Insert the flash head into the opening and tighten the draw string until secure.

BREAKDOWN

1. Loosen the draw string on the flash-head opening.
2. Remove the flash from the flash-head opening. ◀
3. Unplug the inflation valve and deflate the softbox by pinching the base of the valve and applying light pressure to the unit. ◀

4. Flatten the softbox and store for later use.

SETUP FOR SMALLER FLASHES

To accommodate smaller flash heads, the included rubber tension band can be used to secure your flash to the softbox.

1. Inflate the diffuser by pinching the base of the inflation valve and blowing into the opening. Plug the inflation valve once the diffuser is fully inflated.

2. Slide the tension band over the flash head and position it by the tilt joint.

3. Place the softbox's opening over the head of your flash and tighten the drawstring.
4. Pull the tension band over the flash head opening material to secure the softbox.

5. To disassemble the diffuser, remove the tension band from over the flash head and follow the “Breakdown” instructions (page 7).
